FEW WORDS ABOUT CYPRUS

Cyprus as a member state of the EU is subject to the MiFID II and therefore can be used as a springboard for immediate access and easy set-up in the prestigious financial markets within the EU (including Frankfurt, London etc). The legislation put in place is constantly under review and aims to regulate and harmonize operations in the financial services sector.

The financial regulator in Cyprus is the Cyprus Securities and Exchange Commission (CySEC). Many globally recognized top Investment Firms have already set a footprint in Cyprus or have moved their headquarters in Cyprus, in an effort to acquire the relevant Cyprus Investment Firm (CIF) Licence under EU Markets in Financial Instruments Directive (known as “MiFID II) from CySEC and operate as a regulated investment services firm from Cyprus in all EU markets, Russia, the Middle East, Africa, Asia etc.

CYPRUS INVESTMENT FIRM

1. The Benefits

EU Regulation: An Investment Firm licensed by CySEC falls under the MiFID II. As such, it receives a license valid across the EU.

EU Single Passport: An Investment Firm licensed by CySEC can offer investment services, establish representative offices or establish fully operational branches in any desired location within the EU without any additional requirements from that (host) EU State, whilst being supervised directly by CySEC.

Low Capital Requirements: Investment Firms are required to maintain between EUR 75.000 to EUR 750.000 as minimum capital requirement depending on the type of investment services offered and whether or not the firm will hold client funds.

Low Operating and Licensing Costs: Compared to other EU countries, Cyprus offers one of the most competitive operating and licensing cost packages for Investment Firms.

Favourable Tax Regime: Cyprus benefits from a low corporate tax regime and an impressive range of double taxation treaties with more than 50 countries. Tax advantages to Cyprus Investment Firms, include:

- Corporate tax is only 12,5%;
- Profits from disposal of securities are tax free;

- No tax on payment of dividend to non residents;
- Tax Incentives for Foreign Employees (50% tax exemption for employees of over €55kper annum salary).

Favourable Business Environment: Due to its location and highly skilled multilingual labour force available at rates of pay that are generally lower than those of industrialized countries, Cyprus now is an international hub towards the European markets.

Freedom from Exchange Controls: Profits, interest and dividends, capital gains and any gains arising from disposal of shares in such investments can be freely remitted overseas without any limitation.

Advanced Telecommunications: Cyprus has invested heavily in the telecommunications sector and is included today among the most developed countries in the world in this respect.

Global market credibility & penetration: Provides a solid basis for a mutual recognition regime between EU Member States and third countries, securing thereby a robust and comprehensive framework to ensure high levels of investor protection. Therefore there is a clear opportunity to seek a competitive advantage by driving new value propositions in order to exploit new markets, instruments and geographies.

Low expense level: A mature professional services sector at a very low expense level (fees) for financial and professional services compared to other EU Jurisdictions (estimated to be at 35-40% lower than Western European rates).

CYPRUS FUNDS

Cyprus Alternative Investment Funds

In 2018, the legal framework for the Alternative Investment Funds (AIFs) in Cyprus has been enhanced significantly. The new legislation introduced new rules for authorization as well as enhanced roles and responsibilities for directors, external managers, and depositaries. Most importantly, Cyprus introduced the Registered Alternative Investment Funds (RAIFs), a cost-effective solution and operationally lean structure.

Main provisions of the AIF Law

Regulation & Supervision

The supervision and the regulation of investment funds in Cyprus are with the Cyprus Securities and Exchange Commission (CySEC).

Legal Forms of AIFs

AIFs can be structured in one of the following forms:

- Common Fund;
- Fixed Capital Investment Company;
- Variable Capital Investment Company;
- Investment Limited Partnership.

Classes of AIFs

The AIF Law provides for two classes of AIF:

- AIF for an unlimited number of investors, which can be marketed to retail or to well-informed and/or professional investors, as defined by the MiFID II;
- AIF for a restricted number of investors (up to 50), which can be marketed only to well-informed and/or professional investors, as defined by the MiFID II.

Minimum Capital Requirements

- Minimum share capital: € 125.000;
- In the case of self-managed funds: €50.000.

Umbrella Structures

The AIF Law allows umbrella funds, which are collective investment schemes that exist as single legal entities with multiple sub-funds (investment compartments), each one of which can have its own investment policy.

Listing of AIFs

Under the AIF Law, an AIF can be listed on any recognized stock exchange in the EU or a third country.

Registered Alternative Investment Funds (RAIFs) in Cyprus

A new category of Alternative Investment Funds, the Registered AIFs ('RAIFs') has been introduced by CySEC. The introduction of RAIFs is considered one of the most important changes made in the fund industry thus far.

A RAIF will be a special type of an AIF that will not be subject to authorisation from CySEC, but it will be regulated through its manager who should always be a licensed AIFM.

Conditions for a RAIF

An AIF can operate as a RAIF, if all the following conditions are met:

- It is exclusively addressed to professional and well-informed investors;
- It is externally managed;
- Its regulatory documents clearly mention that it is under the specific part of the AIF Law.

A RAIF will be registered in a central register, but it will not fall under the direct supervision of CySEC.

A RAIF can be set up as:

- A mutual fund;
- An investment company;
- A partnership.

Within 12 months from the date of their registration with CySEC, RAIFs must raise a capital of at least €500,000-(Five Hundred Thousand Euros) from investors. A RAIF can operate with multiple compartments, provided this is mentioned in its regulatory documents.

Alternative Investment Fund Manager (AIFM)

A RAIF should always appoint an external manager that must be either:

- An AIFM of the Republic;
- An AIFM of EU;
- An AIFM outside EU provided that it has received the passport of Directive 2001/61/EU and has defined a reference country in EU.

The AIFM should also appoint a custodian as per the provisions of AIFM Law.

Our comprehensive package for the AIF set-up includes the following:

- Providing our clients with the analysis of the provisions and the implications of the AIF Law;
- Advising on the most suitable forms of AIFs in the light of the regulatory requirements and in alignment with the clients' objectives;
- Drafting the necessary legal documents for the incorporation and the establishment of the AIF;
- Submission of the application to CySEC and ongoing monitoring of the status of the application;
- Ongoing provision of administrative services including the appointment of nominee officers, office facilities, administration of affairs, accounting audit, tax services etc.
